Raised For The College.

Another Enthusiastic Meeting Held, and Committees Appointed to Start the Work.

The meeting of the subscribers of the Kentucky Normal College building fund was held at the court house Monday evening for the purpose of naming committees to proceed with the work of construction. Before entering upon this, however, a larger proposition was made and in a short time the fund had been raised from $11,000 to $15,000. Six hundred and thirty-five dollars of this was not actually subscribed, but was guaranteed by fourteen men present. The next morning a letter was received from Dr. T. D. Burman, of Matamoras, W. Va., subscribing $500. There now remains only $125 to be actually subscribed.

Hon. G. W. Castle was made chairman of the meeting and C. L. Miller Secretary.

When the matter of selecting committees was reached it was decided to have a building committee to serve in conjunction with Prof. Hyington and Kennison. Also, a finance committee to look after the collection of subscriptions, etc. It was also decided to have two trustees, in whom the contracts should be vested.

The committees selected are as follows: Building—J. C. Thomas, M. G. Berry and T. J. Snyder.

Finance—Jay H. Northup, G. A. Nash, G. S. Wilson, F. H. Yates, Mont Holt, W. N. Sullivan and W. T. Cain.

Trustees—M. S. Burns and M. F. Conley.

A meeting of the building committee was held Tuesday evening. Prof. Kennison was elected chairman and Mr. Berry secretary. An appointment was made with A. C. Pike, architect, for Wednesday evening, to receive proposition for making plans for the building. The committee was to meet again Thursday evening of this week.

It is their intention to push the preliminary work with all possible haste, so as to get the work of construction started as soon as possible.

We expect to publish the list of subscribers next week, as it will doubtless be complete by that time.

This is the most important piece of work ever done in Louisa. Much of the credit is due to Col. Northup, who first took hold of the proposition to raise $15,000.

Layne-Faulkner.

Valerius C. Layne and Mrs. Cora Faulkner, of Buchanan, were quietly married at the hotel Ruffner, in Charleston, W. Va., March 17th. The happy couple intended it to be a secret, but like all other affairs of the kind, it soon became known and their many friends extend congratulations. The bride is a daughter of Emily Brumfield, a well known resident of this county, while the groom is "Poplar Jim," a son of Louisa Layne. They will reside in Ashland.

Revival Will Start Sunday.

Rev. E. T. Cates will arrive here Friday of this week, ready to begin work in the revival at the M. E. Church South, on Sunday. It is expected that the series of services will continue for about two weeks. A complete history of the next series has been received.

The pastor, Rev. William, further announced his participation in this movement.

Miss Annie, daughter of T. H. Smith, was engaged Friday. She announced that she was to be married to a son of a well known family in this county. The wedding will be held at the home of the bride's parents, in this county. The groom is a well known resident of this county. The wedding will be held at the home of the bride's parents, in this county.

The "Raging" Big Sandy.

The following item has been going the rounds of the press during the past few days. Col. Warren is the U. S. Engineer in charge of the district in which the Big Sandy river is included:

"Go out on one of those dams when a flood is booming down from the mountains? Not for a million dollars," spoke Col. J. G. Warren, United States Engineer, in discussing dams and rivers in mountainous regions. "One must see a flood in a mountain stream to appreciate what it is to build dams which will withstand it," remarked Col. Warren. "Cloud bursts are not infrequent over the Big Sandy, and when one takes place, the water comes tearing down Tag fork and Levisa fork into the Big Sandy at a terrific speed. Unless the dam is made ready to receive the rush of water, it is very likely that it will be swept away. The men in charge of them take grave risks to make them ready. They run right out on the dam and work just as if there was not the slightest danger."

Col. Warren will soon advertise for bids for the construction of a dam in Tag fork, near Salspeter, in Levisa fork, near Chapman. Each will be about 200 feet long and will cost in the neighborhood of two hundred thousand dollars. With these dams it will be possible for steamboats to run up the forks probably twenty miles further than at present.

College Notes.

John L. Cumbs was somewhat indisposed last Monday.

J. Comard Berry is visiting home folks at Blaine this week.

Walter Cain, who has been attending school at Berea, came home Wednesday.

Miss Rachel Bryan, of Ashland, who is attending school here, spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks.

The advanced German class of the K. N. C. is now taking a course in Scientific German prepared by Prof. H. B. Hodges, of Harvard University.

Frank Crutcher, who has been taking the Scientific course, has dropped this work and is devoting all his time to typewriting and bookkeeping.

Rev. Roscoe Murray is taking a course of study in the college.

Miss Florence Millender has given up her school work and has accepted a position as stenographer and bookkeeper for the Big Sandy Produce Company.

We understand that the boys and girls of the college are to give a play soon, entitled "The Union Depot." Particulars later.

Campbell Burke, who attended school here for several terms, has enlisted in the U. S. army.

The small pox patient is now almost well and will probably be able to return to school in a few days.

The Scientific class of the K. N. C. finished plane geometry yesterday and immediately took up the study of solid geometry.

Episcopal Services.

On Sunday Louisa will be favored by a visit from the Rev. L. W. Burton, Bishop of the Diocese of Lexington, at which time he will preach at the M. E. Church at 7:15 p. m. On this occasion several will be confirmed. Miss Kate Freese will sing. Bishop Burton is well and favorably known to this city, and his coming always affords much pleasure. The Rev. Francis Moore, Rector of the Ashland Episcopal Church, accompanied Bishop Burton on this visitation, which will include Prestonsburg, Florence and Ashland.

The W. C. T. U. meeting at the M. E. Church South Sunday night, was largely attended and very much enjoyed by all present. Prof. Kennison's address on "Nail your feet to the cross," was interesting and timely.

Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Patton, was married in Ashland Sunday night to a son of the same family.

HORRIBLE MURDER

Of A Woman Committed in Pike County by Isaac Wallace.

Pikeville, Ky.—Mrs. Levi Sykes of Elkhorn City, was fatally wounded Saturday night by Isaac Wallace, son of Thomas Wallace. The young man called at the Sykes home and called for Mrs. Sykes's son, whom he wished to get out of bed to accompany him. She told him that she did not want her son out at that time of the night, whereupon the fiend turned and fired upon her, the bullet taking effect near the navel. She lingered in terrible agony until Monday afternoon, when she passed away the fatal effect of the bullet making this one of the foulest and most heinous crimes ever committed in this section.

She was attended by Dr. Boothe of Elkhorn City, who called Dr. Z. A. Thompson, of Pikeville, in consultation, but the bullet had ranged downward and cut a large artery and the wound was necessarily fatal.

Wallace is the same man who killed Drew Wright on Grassy a year ago.

The murderer fled to the mountains of Virginia and is being hotly pursued by Pike county officers and friends of the murdered woman.

Inez.

Master Holmes Kirk gave his many friends a party last Monday evening in honor of his 14th birthday.

Rev. Harden returned home Monday from a business trip to Palatka, Catlettsburg and Harboursville, W. Va.

Ed. Kirk of Louisa, was here for a few days last week the guest of friends.

Prof. Ebers spent Saturday and Sunday with his family at Round Bottom, W. Va.

W. A. Elsworth, of Monroe, N. Y., is spending a few days in our city, the guest of his sister-in-law, Miss Margaret McDonald. He delivered very interesting talks at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening.

John Rouse has moved into the Wilson property in the upper end of town; E. E. Parsley into the property vacated by Mr. Rouse; Ulysses McCann into the Parsley property; Mrs. Miss Chaffins into the W. B. Porter property; Wm. Banister into the Ross Banister property; Wm. Preece into Wolf creek; R. J. Jarrell into the Preece property.—Press.

Decision Reversed.

The Court of Appeals has reversed the decision of the Lawrence Circuit Court, rendered last August, in the case of the Miller Supply Company against the Louisa Water Company. The former is sustained in its contention that it is a lien holder rather than a common creditor, and it will therefore recover its claim in full as against 70 per cent, which it would have received under the lower court's decision. This will affect the other common creditors to only a small extent, as the difference is only a small percentage of the whole.

Marriage License Refused.

John C. Green gave his age as 21, and said his home was in Johnson county, near Paintsville, accompanied by a girl who gave her name as Ella Castle, from the same place, appeared before Judge Dovel at Louisa, for a marriage license. The license was refused because of the child-like appearance of the girl, and she could or would not answer the questions as to her age satisfactorily. She appeared to be about 15 years old.

Mr. H. F. Patton, Superintendent of schools of Floyd county, was in Louisa Monday on business. He is now serving his second term as Superintendent. He has been 72 school terms during his government service. As there are only 100 days in the school year he will be soon due for his annual re-examination. He has been a member of the National Education Association and has been a delegate to the annual convention of that body.

TRAVELING LIBRARY

Proposed for Trial in the Big Sandy Valley by Congressman Langley.

The establishing of an itinerant library for the Big Sandy section is being agitated by Mr. Langley, of Kentucky. It is to be modeled after the South Lothian library which has existed 16 Scotland or almost one hundred years.

It is the intention to establish in some central point of the section a main office. From this office, books will be sent to branch sections which will be established at every postoffice where five or more residents request it.

In place of the number of books at a sub-station being gradually increased, the numbers of volumes constituting the branch library will at certain intervals be transferred to another sub-station and those from some other brought in.

Congressman Langley has interested Andrew Carnegie in the project and the father of libraries is at present making an examination of the plan proposed by Mr. Langley.

It is extremely probable from the tenor of the letters received from Mr. Carnegie, who is deeply interested in the project, will make an experiment and should it prove to be feasible assist in locating through out the country, a number of these libraries. The initial experiment will, in a short time, be made in the district represented in Congress by Mr. Langley.

HEAVY BOND.

Otis Riley Held Under $10,000 Bail For Murder of Alexander Treat.

Otis Riley, the policeman at Williamsport, W. Va., who killed Alexander Treat, age 80 years, has been released from jail under a bond of ten thousand dollars. His father and others signed the bond.

The details of the shooting as given in the News last week seem to have been practically correct. It is a very bad case and there is much feeling against Riley. He is about 35 years of age and has a wife and several children.

He claims self defense, stating that the old gentleman was slushing at him with a knife. The general belief is that Riley was forced to shoot Treat.

Oliver.

We are expecting a revival to be held at this place in the near future.

Squire Hughes held his regular law day here Monday.

Mrs. Frank Thompson visited her mother and sister at this place Sunday.

Miss Lizzie Lester of Tuscola, is attending school at this place.

Bob Hoffman of Jettie was on our creek Sunday.

Chester Webb visited his uncle Cyrus and Luke Webb Saturday and Sunday.

Prof. E. B. French has quit school and says he is going to commence farming.

Attorneys J. M. Riffe, Meredith Perkins, Joe Sweetman and Uncle Tip attended Squire Hughes' court here Monday.

Monroe Webb our new deputy sheriff, is doing a good business.

Theodore Hammond passed down our creek Sunday.

Miss Bertha Thompson was the pleasant guest of Mrs. Maggie Brumard Sunday.

Miss Laura Moore spent Saturday and Sunday with home folks.

Dave Thompson and daughters attended church at Jettie Sunday night.

C. I. Thompson, of Williamsport, attended Squire Hughes' court here Monday.

John Carter purchased a nice lot of acres from A. J. Webb, of J. L. P. and A. J. Webb, Jr., who called at their father's Monday.

Pikeville.

Dr. O. K. Bond, of Mays, and Dr. Harry Bond, of Lawrence county, are in town to see their brother, Dr. Chas. F. Bond. Dr. Harry Bond and daughter will make their home with his brother. He was formerly a physician of Louisa, Ky., but having lost his wife by death and having very ill health himself, he decided to give up his profession for some time at least.—Pikeville Courier.

Dr. H. H. Stallard, a prominent physician, came down from Heller and reports a most disastrous storm at Morrowbone in the early hours of Friday morning. The Pike Coal and Coke Company's coal tips were blown away, houses unroofed, some of the smaller buildings blown down and much damage done generally. Last year the Morrowbone vicinity suffered much from floods caused by cloudbursts, etc., and it seems that it is fated to suffer much from warping elements.

J. F. Pauley purchased the water works for the sum of $5,000 on Monday when same was sold by S. H. Wright, master commissioner of the Pike Circuit Court.

W. B. Pinson, F. C. Scott and H. P. Phiergo became the purchasers of the Electric Light plant Monday for the sum of $5,550. Same was sold by S. H. Wright, master commissioner of the Pike Circuit Court.

Rev. A. Lee Barrett, pastor of the M. E. Church South, was called home at Harboursville, W. Va., on account of sickness in his family. Rev. M. C. Reynolds filled his appointments Sunday.

We learn that the elder Mr. Winchester, the capitalist and speculator, who with his son Charles Winchester, spent much of last autumn and this winter in Pikeville, and who invested $90,000 in the Island Creek coal lands, dropped dead last Saturday, while en route to Pikeville to close the deal. We understand he was coming here to pay the sum in full and close the deal, which, we presume, will be consummated by some other member of the syndicate. Mr. Winchester was a pleasant gentleman and a straight-forward business man, and his death is a matter of deep regret to the people of Pikeville. The purchase of the Island Creek tract was made through W. K. Elliott and M. C. Peely, who have been apprised of the death of Mr. Winchester.—Correspondent to Ashland Daily Independent.

Walbridge.

James Caperton is home again. Fred Peters was here Sunday.

G. L. Burke was a business caller on H. Wells Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Brien made a business trip to Louisa recently.

The Lane was a business visitor at Loverslane Monday.

Harmon Arttrip and family have moved to H. W. Wolf's place.

Rev. E. W. W. spent Saturday and Sunday with the Curran family.

Rumor says there will be a wedding soon.

Mrs. Person Hickey died last week.

ANTIQUATED CARS

In Use On Big Sandy Branch of C. & O. Railway.

The passenger cars discovered by Columbus are still in daily use on the Big Sandy Division of the C. & O. Railway.

The traffic on this division is sufficient at the maximum legal rate of three cents per mile to enable these cars to earn a larger dividend on the investment than any other cars on the entire system. But while this is true, we believe the company is sacrificing larger possibilities from these relics of the early ages.

A very large percentage of the people of this world, especially the wealthy class, has a mania for relics, for antiquities, and for curious things. They will pay fancy prices for odd experience. They ride camels at the expositions at an astounding and extravagant rate of mileage. They will go to the country and climb into the most antiquated ox cart they can find and pay several times the worth of the ride just for the sensation and novelty of the uncomfortable experience. Just for fun they will often ride rough-going horses over roads that could be traveled in comfort by the use of modern vehicles. This penchant of humanity leads us to suggest to the C. & O. that if they will use these cars in their trains running between the metropolitan cities of New York and Washington, charging extra for the novelty of riding in them, the patronage will be heavy and the returns even more satisfactory than here on the Big Sandy. The novelty has worn off here and would just as leave ride in modern coaches at the same price.

We feel sure that no C. & O. high official of the present regime has ever seen the inside of one of these curiosities; also the opportunity for this suggestion would not have remained open for us to the present time.

A few years ago it might have been said that we didn't know or deserve anything better on Big Sandy, but things have changed. When we cross over the river and take a ride at two cents a mile on the modern and Western's modern trains, and the opposite side of Big Sandy, the contrast becomes painfully striking.

Since the slump in business came the C. & O. has many idle passenger cars of infinitely better quality than those in use here. Yet we are forced to ride in the same old cattle cars as heretofore. We are entitled to better service.

Buchanan.

Earl Chapman and son Lindsay of Newport, Ky., were visitors here this week.

TEMPERANCE LESSON

Sunday School Lesson for March 29, 1908
Specially Prepared for This Paper

LESSON TEXT.—Proverbs 23:33. Memory verse, 31. GOLDEN TEXT.—"At last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."—Prov. 23:32. SCRIPTURE arranged by Prof. J. Wallace Brown of Missouri, for a responsive reading exercise:

THE DRUNKARD'S PROGRESS.

A Dirge of Drink.

An Enigma of the Ages.
Who hath woe?
Who hath sorrow?
Who hath contumacious?
Who hath complaining?
Who hath wounds without cause?
Who hath redness of eyes?

The Curt Answer of Wisdom.
They that tarry long at the wine;
They that go to seek out mixed wine.

A Strict Moral Pointed.
Look not thou upon the wine
When it is red,
When it sparkleth in the cup,
When it goeth down smoothly.

The Sinner End.
At last it biteth like a serpent,
And stingeth like an adder.
Thine eyes shall behold strange things,
And thy heart shall utter perverse things.
Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea,
Or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.

The Drunkard's Last Waking Soliloquy.
They have stricken me,
And I was not hurt.
They have beaten me,
And I felt it not.
When shall I awake?
I will seek it yet again!

An Enigma of the Ages.
V. 23. Here we have a series of questions which are used most effectively to emphasize the evils of strong drink.

"Who hath woe?" Woe of body and woe of mind; woe present and woe to come; woe in home and woe in one's family; pain, disease, poverty.

"Who hath contumacious?" Quarrels, brawls, inflamed passions ready to give and take offense. And who hath complaining? Conflicts between desire and conscience, between appetite and all hopes for this life and the life to come.

"Who hath wounds without cause?" Foolish talking, vile conversation, noisy demonstrations, revelation of secrets. His tongue is "set on fire of hell." The R. V. translates: "Who hath complaining?" and cause for complaining. The drinker complains of fate, of God, of circumstances, of friends, of everything and everybody, except himself the real cause of all his complaints.

"Who hath redness of eyes?" Needless, from unprovoked disputes and brawls, from accidents caused by the effects of drinking.

"Who hath redness of eyes?" Dimming his vision, red with weeping, making "his eyes blush for the sins of his mouth."

The Curt Answer of Wisdom.
V. 30. "They that tarry long at the wine." The tendency of strong drink is to continue drinking, to spend hours, often the whole night, in carousals. "They that go to seek mixed wine," spiced, drugged, medicated, thus increasing its intoxicating power.

Almost all sins against the flesh, gluttony, lust, debaucheries of every kind, are connected with, inflamed by, made more deadly and incurable by intoxicating liquors.

A Strict Moral Pointed.
V. 21. "Look not thou upon the wine." Do not put yourself in the way of temptation. He who goes freely into temptation is already more than half fallen. "When it is red," Red wines of a rich golden-red color; were much esteemed. "Giveth his color in the cup," sparkling with brilliant appearance, indicating its more exquisite quality and strength; so that it "moveth itself aright." R. V. "goeth down smoothly." In a delightful, pellucid stream, making an act of drinking a delicious pleasure.

The Sinner End.
V. 32. "At last it biteth like a serpent." Like a serpent it will be brilliant of color, and glide with easy motion; and like a serpent it will strike its fangs into its victim, sending its deadly poison into his blood. "And stingeth like an adder," a most venomous genus of serpents. The horned Cerastes adder lurks in the sand, perhaps coiled up in a camel's footprint, ready to dart at any passer-by.

There is no better emblem of the results of intemperance than the serpent. Often beautiful in appearance, and secret in its approach, while the effects are pains that only fire can express. It infects the whole system. It inflames every evil passion. If permitted to go on, it is death. The world is full to-day of the sorrow, the burning remorse, the agonies of the body and of the spirit which come from fiery serpents of intemperance.

Drunkard's Last Waking Soliloquy.
V. 33.—They have stricken me, . . . and I was not sick, they have beaten me, and I felt it not." This is the inebriate's constant answer to the remonstrances of those who warn him of his danger. "When shall I awake?" Omit the interrogation, and read "when I shall awake, I will seek it yet again." His next drink will be for more strong drink. This is a true picture. One of the great temptations of the drunkard is this in his mind, that in spite of all warnings and remonstrances the drink and remorse again to his lips.

When the stomach, heart or kidney nerves get weak, then these organs always fail. Don't drug the stomach or stimulate the heart or kidneys. That is simply a makeshift. Get a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The restorative is prepared expressly for these weak inside nerves. Strengthen these nerves, build them with Dr. Shoop's Restorative tablets or liquid, and see how quickly help will come. Free sample sent on request by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Job Printing

Some of you are paying more for your job printing than the Big Sandy News office charges, and getting a poorer class of work and a cheaper grade of stock. It is worth your while to investigate.

RUBBER STAMPS.

Rubber stamps are a great convenience for certain purposes. They are not suitable for printing your letter heads and envelopes. Neatly printed stationery looks business like and is cheaper, all things considered, than buying blank stock and stamping it yourself.
However, we furnish rubber stamps at 1 cent for a single line 3 inches or less in length. 2 cents for 3 lines 3 inches or less.

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated To Tired Mothers as they Join the Home Circle.

The best thing to give your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart, to a child, a good example; to a father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men charity.

The young man who says that he cannot succeed in such a country as this, with all its magnificent opportunities, is the poorest kind of a stick. Why, there are men today who, when they see the young man has the right kind of pluck, are willing to advance him money to build up his business and give him a start. These are the young men, however, who stick, dig and save. What others have done can be performed today by our young men. They are in a great measure the architect of their own fortunes. Upon themselves alone rests the responsibility. They have it in their power to either make or unmake, and every young man should earnestly and seriously ask himself which shall it be.

Every well regulated family ought to be a little theater and concert room to itself. Teach your sons and daughters to sing, read, recite and declaim. After a little discipline they will make the evening the brightest part of the day.

Any business is more respectable than what is termed loafing. A young man had better sell claims by the palmy than hang around the public resorts, murdering time and his own reputation.

A BABY'S SOLILOQUY.

One of our good neighbors who claims she can interpret "baby talk," vouches for the truthfulness of the following having fallen from the lips of a sweet little blossom of humanity that recently came to a home in our city: "I am here and this is what they call the world. I don't think much of it. It's a very flannelly world, and smells of paregoric awfully. It's a dreadful light world, too, and makes me blink. I tell you And I don't know what to do with my hands. I think I'll dig my fists in my eyes. No, I won't. I'll scrawl at the corner of my blanket and chew it up, and then I'll holler; whatever happens, I'll holler. And the more paregoric they give me the louder I'll yell. That old nurse puts the spoon in my mouth in a very uneasy way, and keeps tasting my milk herself all the while. She spilled smuff in it last night, and when I hollered, she trotted me. That comes from being a two day's old baby. Never mind, when I am a man I'll pay her back good. There's a pin sticking in me good now, and if I say a word about it I'll be trotted or fed, and I would rather have catnip tea. I'll tell you who I am. I found out today. 'I heard folks say 'Hush, don't wake up Jane's baby.' That's me I'm Jane's baby, and I suppose that pretty white-faced woman over there on the pillow is Jane. No, I am mistaken, for a chap was it here just now and wanted to see Charley's baby, and looked at me, and said that I was a funny little toad, and looked just like Charley. He smelt of cigars and I am not used to them. I wonder who else I belong to. Yes, there's another one—that's grandma. Jane told me, and then she took me up and held me against her soft cheek and said: 'It was Grandma's baby, so it was.' I declare I do not know who I belong to; but I'll holler and maybe I'll find out."

GOOD FOR EVERYBODY.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled 50c at A. M. Hughes' drug store, Louisa, Ky.

A PICTURE FOR HUSBANDS.

Here is a picture which some husbands could study with advantage. Many a man seems to regard the household duties of a wife not to be compared for a moment with those which attract his attention. He expects, if business has perplexed or made him anxious, to have his wife's sympathy when he comes home at night, but never imagines that during the day anything could have occurred to trouble that wife. He retires from his workshop or counting room soiled, perhaps by some bad bargain, annoyed by a stupid workman or unreasonable employer, or from some ill-spoken word, and expects to be received with smiles; it matters not how early may be his looks, his wife must be in dress, in countenance, in words, all sweetness and amiability. He may have no pleasant word, may take his place moodily at his table, but his wife's words must be affectionate, and his wife's looks full only of gladness. What, he thinks, has she to trouble her? And this when the poor wife has, through a long and weary day, been toiling with family work and vexations care till her head is aching, and foot and hand and heart are sore with the worry. The tea is dispatched silently, very likely with somber complaints over the trials he has had during the day, or of the closeness of the times; and then the evening paper is taken in hand and pored over until the very advertisements are devoured, or the readers face is bowed upon the crumpled page in sleep. Or if he be not weary enough for that, he steers his hat and rushes for the club or reading room, or more probably for the lounging room where such as he do congregate; there with the fragment of cigar in hand and desultory talk from his lips, he lingers till the noise of the closing shutters warns him to leave. He goes at last home again, because he can go nowhere else. Meanwhile, the wife has with a heavy heart and tired step, got the little ones into bed, and as best she could, has worn away the long hours of the evening in silence and loneliness. Should a thought of his selfishness or injustice cross the mind of the husband, he responds, with ready self-complacency, "I require relaxation and must see my friends." The night is witness of a greater lack of sympathy. Perhaps the babe is not well, and is restless. But that is not his business. It matters not that the pale wife has had the child in her arms through the long day—a day's work with a sic babe, one of the weariest of the human toll—he must not be disturbed. We have known such a husband to provide a distant sleeping apartment that he might not be disturbed, and lie snoring in leaden unconsciousness while a frail wife, with swollen eyes, and limbs that almost refused to obey an iron will, was walking to and fro with his child. Of course this does not apply to the husband of any wife who reads this column. If it did we would suggest that you cut this out and paste it in his hat.

A GOOD REASON

Louisa People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Don's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cure is always lasting. The remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache, and increasing kidney and urinary complaints. Louisa people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. Frank Figg living in Louisa, Ky., says: "Don's Kidney Pills entirely cured me of kidney complaint and I am glad to recommend them. I suffered from many symptoms of this disease—backaches and headaches were... spot. I also had pains... I was weak and... without any... most of the time. The kidney secretions were also disordered and caused me additional annoyance. Don's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured them and began their use in strict accordance with the directions. They regulated the action of my kidneys, strengthened my back and entirely rid me of all symptoms. I gladly recommend Don's Kidney Pills to my friends."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McLure Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Don's—and take no other.

BY REQUEST.

Prepared At Small Cost. And Many Swear By It.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle and taking in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

Field Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Sarsaparilla, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sassafras, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from your home druggist.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming backache, bladder weakness and urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried it say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night. Curing even the worst form of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial. It is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Scranton (Pa.) Times was the first to print this remarkable prescription, in October 1935, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other cities have made many announcements of it in their readers.

NO USE TO DEB.

"I have found out there is no use to do of long trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Danville, Pa. "I would not be alive today only for that wonderful medicine. It brings up the cough quickly or than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless." The most reliable remedy for cough, cold, influenza, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee at A. M. Hughes drug store, Louisa, Ky. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

Try JELL-O, the dairy, appetizing, economical dessert. Can be prepared instantly—simply add boiling water and serve when cool. Flavored just right; sweetened just right; perfect in every way. A few packages make enough dessert for a large family. All grocers sell it. Don't accept substitutes. JELL-O complies with all pure food laws. Flavors—Vanilla, Orange, Raspberry, Strawberry, Lemon, Cherry, Peach.

"GOOD LUCK" BAKING BREAD

No housewife or baker can have "good luck" if the flour is poor. Why not use the flour that everybody speaks well of? Few bakers ever had such a good reputation as

It is a Flour with Life to It. It is pure itself, it is snow white, it is light, it is tender, it is sweet. When you use your flour you know it is going to make. Surest guarantee you can give anyone is to use it. Ask your dealer. Nothing to pay if you don't like it. We are behind him in this. The Devey Bros. Co., Millers, Manchester, Ohio.

Spring Millinery.

The season's latest novelties in this line is now on hand in the department and judged by other showings of like nature in the history of the store the present assortment of fine millinery is the most beautiful we have ever offered to the public.

We have everything in the line from the medium conservative styles to those ultra fashionable creations in the "Merry Widow" and other new and popular shapes.

Judging from the expressions of many visitors in our first showing of these new novelties, we have something to commend to you and something to offer. Our entire line shows the care we have taken in making our selections and the harmonious effects obtained exhibit the skill of the milliners art to the highest degree—individually in each design—a creation to suit every taste or fancy—worn in the most becoming combination of the season's styles and delectable—priced at the most reasonable. We cordially invite you to come to-day and look over this beautiful array at pleasure—you will find it much more satisfactory than trying to examine the showing when the crowd is so dense as to make it almost impossible to secure what you desire with any degree of satisfaction. We have individual fitting rooms for those who desire to select a hat of any special design or type.

$100.00 paid by Dr. Shoop for any recent case of Grippe or acute cold.

that a 25 cent box of Preventives will not break. How is this for an offer?

The Doctor's supreme confidence in these Little Candy Cold Tablets—Preventives—is certainly complete. It's $100 against 25 cents—pretty big odds.

And Preventives, remember, contains no quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh or sickening. Pneumonia would never appear if early colds were always broken. Safe and sure for feverish children. 45 Preventives for 25 cents. Louisa Drug Co.

Remember that when the stomach nerves fail or weaken, Dyspepsia or Indigestion must always follow. But strengthen these same weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and then see how quickly health will again return. Weak Heart and Kidney nerves can also be strengthened with the Restorative, where heart palpitations, or kidney weakness is found. Don't drug the stomach or stimulate the heart or kidneys. That is wrong. Go to the cause of these ailments. Strengthen these weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and get well. A simple single test will surely tell Louisa Drug Company.

ENGLAND SAYS NO ALUM IN FOOD and strictly prohibits the sale of alum baking powder—

So does France
So does Germany

The sale of alum foods has been made illegal in Washington and the District of Columbia, and alum baking powders are everywhere recognized as injurious.

To protect yourself against alum,
when ordering baking powder,

Say plainly—

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

and be very sure you get Royal.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar. It adds to the digestibility and wholesomeness of the food.

Rev. Alexander Sanders pastor of the Christian church at Palatka, was in Louisa Wednesday and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Dixon. He will preach at the M. E. church on next Sunday morning.

Next week Miss Elizabeth Melick will organize and train a company of local talent to give "The Union Depot" for the benefit of the Kentucky Normal College. We hope the citizens will give her their hearty cooperation.

Horses Wanted.

Horses, mares and males, must be sound and in good order from 4 to 12 years old, and broke. Will pay highest market price—will be at Louisa, rain or shine, on Friday, April 3rd, 1918. N. S. Buck and Son.

The above cut shows the outside and inside of the New Valentine Store at Huntington. This is considered the finest store room within a hundred miles of Huntington and the line of ladies garments, suits, wraps, hats, waists, skirts, etc., is without an equal outside the very largest cities. The Valentine Store already enjoys a large trade from ladies along Big Sandy river as far as Pikeville and invites the patronage of those who desire apparel that is correct without being unnecessarily costly. The store is built on the colonial style of architecture and is located on Fourth Avenue, opposite the entrance to the New Hotel Frederick. A visit to the Valentine Store is a revelation to those who have not seen a perfectly equipped up-to-date garment store.

J. C. Adams made a business trip to Cincinnati this week.

Millinery Opening at Blaine.

I wish to say to the public that my opening of millinery will be at Blaine, Thursday and Friday, April 3rd and 4th. With a full line of Ladies, Misses, Children's and Boy's hats for spring and summer. Also, a full line of Ladies' shirt waists, skirts, underwear, collars, belts, ribbons, laces, etc. Everybody cordially invited. Mrs. E. C. Berry.

NIPPA.

We are glad to say that Miss Emma Borders has made her return. She has begun her Easter work. We pray for success, this being the first Easter service in this part of the country.

Mrs. Rose Vanhousen is very low with fever. Preston and Vanhousen have got back from down the river, and are getting ready to start again with rafting.

Grandmother Helking is very low and there is very little chance for her recovery.

Also Grandma Walker is suffering with cancer on her face.

HENRY WATTERSON.

Takes A Peep Into the Political Kaleidoscope and Sees Things.

Henry Watterson, of the Courier-Journal, stands alone today as an editorial writer on secular newspapers. He is the last of the old school of editors whose individuality has won for him a national reputation. It matters not whether we always agree with his ideas—which we do not—his vigorous and enchanting style makes all his writings very readable. The following editorial is copied as a fair sample of his entertaining productions. Under the head of "A Queer Old World" he writes:

It is the fourth of March, 1906. What shall not betide this day 12 months; what may not a year bring forth? Let us pray that each of us be here to see the Fourth of March, 1909! But what shall we see? There's the rub. Within the magic circle of the comet—

"One year more

anything, all things, are possible.

There stands William Henry Taft. Grand but not gloomy, obese but not peculiar, he casts his eye from Heaven to Earth, from Earth to Heaven, and as imagination bodies forth the forms of these things feasible and tangible, he sees the Chicago Convention, another amphitheater of the Romans and the Greeks, swirl about him in every tumult, he Spartacus, the Gladiator, having slain the dragon Hughes, and laid the giants Fairbanks and Cannon low in the dust and quite upon their beam ends. In triumph! Behold the Victor ready for the barrel—the Back of the Buckeye, Big Ingle BIR, the scalps of Foraker and Dick dangling from his girdle—it is not to laugh, it is to holler! Harry New himself—oh, the irony of fate!—places the crown upon that massive brow—Tim Woodruff—again the irony of fate—Master of Ceremonies. Near Caesar across the Rubicon, near Sitting Bull at Little Big Horn, nor even Dan Rice in the Circus Ring—

"This way Mr. Merryman."

"Are, are, sir."

"Ask the lady what she'll have sir."

In this case the lady—the fat lady!—

says she'll take the White House if you please!

Old Hank who knows a thing or two, and who shall be chorus here, interposes with the remark that strange things have happened. "Boys says he, 'get wiser to the facts you are not quite onto the curves of our good Theodore. He knows his business. Just as he watched the criminal rich for himself he will rush the growler of predatory wealth for Taft. In politics, as in cooking, the rule is first to catch the hare. Having got the nomination for Taft, the rest will be easy—dead easy—quite as easy as lying. He has only to send for Harrison and say: 'I never intended no harm to nobody. Has anybody been hurt? Is anybody in jail yet?' Is Paul Morton? Aren't you and Buckefeller and Pierpont Morgan and Jim Hill still at large? Can't I be allowed to play my own game in my own way just as you fellows play your own games in your own way? Is Big Politics or different from High Finance? Come now, be reasonable. You and I are practical men. Which shall it be, Taft, who knows how to circumvent the Constitution on lawyer-like scientific principles, who can skin a statute and tree an Act of Congress like a thigh of mutton, or Bryan, who is bold enough to think he means what he says and can actually do something. I have gave the big stick handy, you know, with six months and a session of Congress before me. Better listen to it before late, old man," and old Hank concludes that Harrison, who with all others has no prejudice, that is, no gratitude and no resentment, where business is concerned, will come to the rescue at the critical moment in 1906, as he came to the rescue at the critical moment in 1904 and there you are!"

So much for the single stroke of the kaleidoscope. It is, however, but a moment from the White House—not to be regarded as conclusive, but "to be continued in our next." Look, then, says the Star-eyed Goliath.

moves toward the Capitoline hill, bearing the milk-white flag of universal brotherhood with its cross of gold, recumbent, entwined by a crown of laurel, rampant; simple yet symbolic!

(Old Hank grins and says "don't be too greedy boys, nor too expectant, either. There is a difference before and after elections. Way back on the high waters of '49—in '41, if you want to know precisely—the Whigs thought as you think now that the skies and fates and they were going to catch larks! Well, many a one had to walk home. The walking may not be as rough, but it is quite as far now between the City of Magnificent Distances and Bitter Creek as it was then between Hell-fer-Sartin and the White House. Mr. Prentice once said of Mr. Clay—may Mr. Bryan not come to realize the force of the example?—If he had been elected President he would have been the wretchedest man in the world, because he would have been proven the biggest liar in the world. Mr. Clay was an ardent, impulsive man, with a genius for making friends. He was a President aspirant for thirty years, and had plastered the public service over three plies deep with promises: promises real and implied; promises conscious and unconscious; but promises he could not by any possibility have discharged. He was an honorable, self-respecting, proud man, and when these promises came to maturity and were presented for payment, and he realized the situation, it would have embittered his life and broken his heart.")

Look again, says the Star-eyed one. By the law of the commonplace please your ladyship there is nothing more coming. Teddy will have his way as to Taft, and Bryan is as good as nominated. What else? What'll! Do you take an alligator for a prophetic? Is truth to be found only among the Everglades?

Look again, says the Star-eyed.

"Oblige the lady," observes Old Hank. "Don't you remember what Jim Jewell said about politics and Gen. Sherman about war? Queer things happen sometimes. Take another peep."

I look again and what do I see?

Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon,

OUR WEST VIRGINIA NEIGHORS.

Johnston. One Riley is still in jail at Wheeling for the murder of Alvin Karpis. The crime is serious and punishment is most atrocious.

Washington, W. Va., March 20.—Col. J. C. Beebe, general manager for the Island Creek Coal Company at Wheeling, today had warrants issued for ten miners for using oil in their lamps mixed with kerosene. The miners were fined heavily and discharged from the company.

The Masonic fraternity had quite a nice time here Saturday night. The convalescence of an initiatory character when the goat got his best little refreshments were served with ardent salute and court plasters as side dishes, and a good time was had. Several Masons from London participated.—Fort Gay Leader.

Claid Newman is laying up in the Huntington Hospital convalescing from a surgical operation which he had performed last week. The operation was entirely successful and the young man is progressing nicely.—Wayne News.

It will be remembered that last fall Harry Ferguson, the 15-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. N. B. Ferguson, of Central City, happened to the misfortune of having his arm shot off. The wounded member has been kept in a cast ever since. Last Saturday when Dr. Ferguson brought it back and buried it in the family ground on Friday 17th.—Fort Gay Leader.

Small William was considerably injured by a fall from a tree. He is now in the hospital at the University of Kentucky. He is now in the hospital at the University of Kentucky. He is now in the hospital at the University of Kentucky.

The Wayne County Democratic Executive Committee met at the court house here and called a primary election to nominate the various party candidates for office May 2nd. The committee on the various candidates for the purpose of defeating the enemies of the election are as follows: County Clerk, Circuit Clerk, Prosecuting Attorney, Sheriff, and Assessor $2 each, Representatives $10, County Commissioner $10, Justice $2, and Constable $2 and their names will be placed on the ticket in the order in which they have paid in their assessments to the treasurer of the Committee.

The fire which occurred in the neutral district between Huntington and Central City, is supposed to have burned up with a dwelling house, but lost only occupied at the time.

It appears the other members of Mr. Duff's family had gone to Charleston to visit relatives, to which place he also intended to pay a visit, and this night was making his way to the train. He returned about 3 o'clock, intending to leave on the next train for his home.

THE FARM.

Matters of Interest To The Greatest of all Industries.

FOR EVERY FARM.
F. C. Bohner, Horticulturist of the State University, Indiana, has following suggestions for a fruit garden.

It is needless to say that every tree should be supplied with the best fruit that can be supplied in its section. There is nothing that the average person is more fond of than good fruit. Every child and most grown people crave it. Physicians tell us that the acids in fruits are a necessary and beneficial function in the digestion of the food. This being true every one would expect every farm home to be supplied with a good fruit garden; that the table would contain a good amount of fruit for many if not all the months of the year.

The best way to get good results is to have your own propagation of fruit trees. By so doing you secure your fruit very cheaply, you get your own varieties that are best suited to your soil and climate, and you know that the fruit is pure. The first step is to select the best fruit. For example, you find a certain kind of fruit which you like very much and which you wish to have on your table. You find that this fruit is very good and you wish to have it on your table. You find that this fruit is very good and you wish to have it on your table.

It is a good idea to have a good tree of excellent quality. It is a good idea to have a good tree of excellent quality.

It is a good idea to have a good tree of excellent quality. It is a good idea to have a good tree of excellent quality.

There is usually considerable difference among different trees of the same variety. The best of these can be reproduced; while in buying from nurserymen one often gets trees propagated from inferior stock or stock of unknown origin. Many different varieties can be grown on one tree. For example by budding or grafting into the different branches as many different varieties can be grown as there are buds or grafts inserted. Peaches can be grown that will ripen every month from June until November. This is of importance on the small place where only a few trees can be grown.

Don't Neglect It

It is a serious mistake to neglect a weak heart. It is such a short step to chronic heart disease. When you notice irregularity of action, occasional short breath, palpitation, fluttering, pain in chest or difficulty in lying on left side, your heart needs help—a strengthening tonic. There is no better remedy than Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. Its strengthening influence is felt almost at once.

"I have used 10 bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and can truthfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever used, and I have tried almost everything that I have of. The doctor who attended me asked me what I was taking and I told him Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, he said it was not going to do me any good, but it did. I have not taken any for a year now and while there is considerably a change in the action of the heart, it is not so bad as it was. I got the use of the heart and I am now getting on my feet. I am now getting on my feet. I am now getting on my feet."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by all druggists and is a sure cure for all heart diseases. It is a sure cure for all heart diseases. It is a sure cure for all heart diseases.

Irregularity is bad in every department of life, in meals, in sleeping hours, but especially when it is a question of womanly habit. Not only is it a sign of female disease, but, unless cured, it will cause dangerous troubles, because of the poisons thus allowed to remain in the system.

If you suffer in this way, get a bottle of Wine of Cardui

Mrs. Lucinda Johnson, of Fish Creek, Wis., writes: "I suffered for fourteen (14) years with irregularity, causing great pain. At last I tried Cardui, and now I am cured." At all druggists, in $1 bottles.
